PRESS RELEASE

Priax awarded contract to conduct border traffic feasibility study

San Diego, October 15, 2008: Priax Corporation has been awarded a contract to conduct a feasibility study investigating methods to prohibit illegal northbound traffic from entering the United States utilizing the southbound traffic lanes. The border has experienced problems with vehicles and pedestrians coming north against the southbound traffic flow in order to enter the United States illegally. This practice is extremely dangerous for southbound travelers.

Priax Corporation will evaluate the conditions and recommend several possible solutions for evaluation by CBP officials. In addition, provisions will be made for increased southbound traffic inspections owing to the increased contraband shipments traveling from the United States into Mexico. Priax Corporation estimates that this study will be complete including budgeting within 90 to 120 days.
